Peace Like a River (a world premiere) ............... Stewart C. Duncan (2018)
Commissioned in loving memory of Carol Lynn Stockton

For thus says the Lord:
Behold, I extend peace to her like a river,
And the glory of the nations like an overflowing stream.
And you will be nursed, you will be carried on the hip.
As one whom his mother comforts,
So I will comfort you in Jerusalem.
Then you will see this, and your heart will be glad,
And your soul will flourish like the new grass.
  -Isaiah 66:12-14

again (after ecclesiastes) ....................... David Lang (2005)

People come and people go – the earth goes on and on.
The sun rises, the sun sets – it rushes to where it rises again.
The wind blows round, round and round – it stops, it blows again.

These things make me so tired – I can’t speak, I can’t see, I can’t hear.
What happened before will happen again.
I forgot it all before.
I will forget it all again.

make peace (after the mourner’s Kaddish) ......... David Lang (2016)

If you can make peace,
Make peace.

In the heavens,
In us,
In all the world,
Make peace.

Effortlessly Love Flows

Aaron Jay Kernis (1998)

Effortlessly, Love flows from God into man,
Like a bird who rivers the air
without spreading her wings.
Thus we move in His world
One in body and soul,
As the Source strikes the note,
Humanity sings --
The Holy Spirit is our harpist,
And all strings which are touched in Love
Must sound.

- Mechthild of Magdeburg
  translation by Jane Hirschfield

How the Soul Speaks to God

Aaron Jay Kernis (1998)
Soloists: Julianna Fox, Michael Patch

Lord, you are my lover,
My longing,
My flowing stream,
My sun,
And I am your reflection.

- Mechthild of Magdeburg
  translation by Oliver Davies

I Cannot Dance, O Lord

Aaron Jay Kernis (1998)

I cannot dance, O Lord, unless you lead me.
If you wish me to leap joyfully,
Let me see you dance and sing.
Then I will leap into love,
And from love into knowledge,
And from knowledge into the harvest,
That sweetest fruit beyond human sense.
There will I stay with You,
Whirling, whirling, whirling . . .

- Mechthild of Magdeburg
  translation by Jane Hirschfield

And I will dwell in the house of the Lord
Forever.

III. Psalm 131 & 133

Lord, Lord,
My heart is not haughty,
Nor mine eyes lofty,
Neither do I exercise myself
In great matters or in things
Too wonderful for me to understand.
Surely I have calmed
And quieted myself,
As a child that is weaned of his mother,
My soul is even as a weaned child.
Let Israel hope in the Lord
From henceforth and forever.

Behold how good,
And how pleasant it is,
For brethren to dwell
Together in unity.

May Adonai bless you and keep you.
May Adonai shine light upon you and be gracious unto you.
May Adonai look toward you and grant you peace.
Program Notes

Commissioning new choral works is a joy, and, as I see it, a responsibility of Te Deum. Helping bring new music into being, supporting living composers, preparing a piece of music without history of performance practice or preferences are the many benefits of commissioning new works. Today’s concert features two world premieres. The first, Peace Like a River, was made possible by a gift in memory of Carol Lynn Stockton. Among many distinctions, Carol was pillar of elementary music education in Kansas City and a former board member of Te Deum. The composer, Stewart Duncan, grew up in Kansas City, and is currently based in Bloomington, Indiana where he is pursuing his Ph.D. in Musicology. It is our honor to recognize Carol with this work. The second commission, Blessing, was made possible by a generous gift from the Shalon Fund. This work is a new setting of the Priestly Benediction by Dr. Karen Siegel, an award winning composer, conductor, singer, and educator based in New Jersey.

The Chichester Psalms have become one of Leonard Bernstein’s most beloved works. This piece came to life in part due to a commission by Chichester Cathedral in England for an annual choral festival in 1965. Of the many notable elements of this master work, the choice to write a piece in Hebrew for an English Cathedral Choral Festival is certainly one of the more fascinating. Predicting universal appeal for years to come, Bernstein’s friend and collaborator, Abraham Kaplan, suggested an English translation be included in the published score. After working on it for eight hours, Bernstein stopped suddenly and said “You know what, if they don’t want to do it in Hebrew, let them not do it!” For Bernstein, the music is not only closely connected to the meaning of these texts, but also to the specific sounds of Hebrew.

Any performance by an ensemble not fluent in Hebrew requires additional research, study, and decisions. We have chosen Sephardic Hebrew pronunciation over Ashkenazic because it is most common in the United States and what Bernstein would have had in his mind when setting these texts. We drew much of our knowledge about accurately approaching this language from the book “Translations and Annotations of Choral Repertoire Volume 4: Hebrew Texts” by Ethan Nash and Joshua Jacobson. In addition, we had the privilege of engaging Rabbi Mark Levin to coach us on our pronunciation.

—Matthew Christopher Shepard

Rabbi Mark H. Levin, DHL was ordained at the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in Cincinnati in 1976 and later earned a doctorate in liturgy from the Hebrew Union College in New York City. His current title is Founding Rabbi of Congregation Beth Torah. Established by 20 families in 1988, the congregation has been located since 1996 on W. 127th St. in Overland Park. He spent his entire rabbinic career in greater Kansas City and, since retiring in 2014, has continued teaching and doing pastoral care in the area.

As Organ Conservator at the Kauffman Center for the Performing Arts in Kansas City, and Organist-in-Residence at the international headquarters of Community of Christ in Independence, Missouri, she plays and oversees the care of three of the Kansas City metro area’s largest pipe organs.

While in high school in Colby, Kansas, Jan was invited to play her first European piano recital in Andover, England. Since then she has performed as a soloist, collaborative artist, and hymn festival designer/leader in many venues in the U.S. and in Australia, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, Germany, Poland, Russia, South Korea, Tahiti, The Netherlands, and The United Kingdom. She has appeared on regional and national conventions of the American Guild of Organists (AGO), the Hymn Society, and other musicians’ organizations; and on American Public Media’s Pipedreams and other broadcasts. She enjoys collaborative music-making as well, and has appeared often with ensembles ranging from symphonies to chamber groups. Her CDs include Organ Polychrome, the first solo recording of the Julia Irene Kauffman Casavant, produced by Reference Recordings in 2014. A disc containing Saint-Saëns’ Third (“Organ”) Symphony with the Kansas City Symphony was nominated for a Grammy in 2015. Her second solo CD from The Kauffman Center is scheduled for release this year.

In addition to her degrees in music education, piano performance, and organ performance, in 2010 Jan earned the Fellow certificate from the AGO, the highest professional certification for organists. She has served in local, regional, and national roles in many non-profit musical and other organizations, most recently as Executive Director of The Hymn Society in the U.S. and Canada. Her extra-musical interests include lacemaking, painting, and riding her Harley-Davidson motorcycle. Visit www.jankraybill.com for Jan’s concert schedule and other information.

LCC has provided Ashton the necessary musical instruction, discipline, experience, and confidence that assists him on stage, where he truly loves to be. Ashton sang with the Boston Camerata along with Te Deum in The Play of Daniel last January and most recently, he was the boy soprano soloist in the world premiere of Kevin Walczyk’s Symphony No. 5 Freedom from Fear: Images from the Shoreline, performed at The Kennedy Center with the KU Wind and Jazz Ensembles. Other on-stage performances have included Louis Leonowens in The King and I, Michael Banks in Mary Poppins, Flounder in Little Mermaid, and Willie Wonka in Charlie and the Chocolate Factory. Ashton is working towards his first-degree black belt in karate and he is an active member in the Clinton Eagles 4H Club. Ashton is honored and excited for this opportunity to sing with Te Deum once again.

CHAMBER CHOIR | October 14–15
Te Deum pays tribute to the centennial of legendary composer/conductor Leonard Bernstein with his beloved Chichester Psalms. Also on the program are world premieres by Karen Siegel and Stewart Duncan, as well as works by David Lang and Aaron Jay Kernis.

PEACE AND JOY

CHAMBER CHOIR | December 3–4
Our first Christmas-season concert, done Te Deum's way! A thoughtfully planned selection of a cappella gems that are fresh, festive and beyond the seasonal standards. The program includes carol settings by Jocelyn Hagen, Susan LaBarr, and Sofia Söderberg, as well as works by Walton, Poulenc, Tavener, and Pärt.

CONVENT MUSIC

ANTIQUA | March 10
In 16th and 17th century Italy, opportunities for women to sing in public were prohibited in many spheres of daily life. But within the inner walls of the convent, cloistered nuns could raise their voices in musical praise to their Maker. For this concert, the women of Te Deum Antiqua will explore the music of these cloistered nuns and the sacred riches that came from this period.

CATHEDRAL CLASSICS

CHAMBER CHOIR | May 25–26
Te Deum wraps up its 11th season with a program of some of the 20th Century's most notable composers. Focusing on familiar music designed for the warm acoustics of the world's greatest cathedrals, the audience will experience a cappella classics by Barber, Gorecki, Britten, Schnittke, Pärt, Walton, and more.

In 16th and 17th century Italy, opportunities for women to sing in public were prohibited in many spheres of daily life. But within the inner walls of the convent, cloistered nuns could raise their voices in musical praise to their Maker. For this concert, the women of Te Deum Antiqua will explore the music of these cloistered nuns and the sacred riches that came from this period.
